Electromagnetism is a branch of physics involving the study of the electromagnetic force, a type of physical interaction that occurs between electrically charged particles. The electromagnetic force usually exhibits electromagnetic fields such as electric fields, magnetic fields, and light, and is one of the four fundamental interactions (commonly called forces) in nature.

Electrodynamics is the physics of electromagnetic radiation, and electromagnetism is the physical phenomenon associated with the theory of electrodynamics. Electric and magnetic fields obey the properties of superposition. Thus, a field due to any particular particle or time-varying electric or magnetic field contributes to the fields present in the same space due to other causes.

Alleged electric shock [UK] from an electric lift call button. A hospital porter was wheeling a trolley down a corridor towards a lift so that he could take the trolley up to a higher floor. According to his story, he touched the lift button and received such a substantial shock that it threw him back through an open door into the laundry cupboard.
