In signal processing, cross-correlation is a measure of similarity of two series as a function of the displacement of one relative to the other. This is also known as a sliding dot product or sliding inner-product. It is commonly used for searching a long signal for a shorter, known feature. It has applications in pattern recognition, single particle analysis, electron tomography, averaging ...

Structural health monitoring (SHM) refers to the process of implementing a damage detection and characterization strategy for engineering structures. Here damage is defined as changes to the material and/or geometric properties of a structural system, including changes to the boundary conditions and system connectivity, which adversely affect the system's performance.

A Web site designed to increase the extent to which statistical thinking is embedded in management thinking for decision making under uncertainties. The main thrust of the site is to explain various topics in statistical analysis such as the linear model, hypothesis testing, and central limit theorem

LIMP User Manual 3 1 What is LIMP? The LIMP is a program for the measurement of the loudspeaker impedance and estimation of loudspeaker physical and dynamical parameters (also called Thiele-Small parameters). It is also a general purpose program for measuring impedance in the range from 1 to 200 ohms.
