History. Designed by Wayne Leek, the Remington Model 1100 was introduced in 1963 as a successor to the Model 58 and 878 gas operated shotguns. The Model 58s had supplemented the recoil operated Model 11-48, which retained the long recoil action of John Browning's original design, present in the Remington Model 11 and the Auto-5. Later the 1100 replaced it as well.

The website is much more informative than the owners manual and luckily I checked it out before returning. I initially could not get the factory combo to open the door, apparently this is a common occurrence.
